

A Directory of Community Rehabilitation Providers for Youth in Transition and Adults with Disabilities
in Connecticut

Connecticut Interagency Transition Task Force

Department of Education
Bureau of Special Education

May 2005

INTRODUCTION

The development of this resource directory was an initiative of the Connecticut Interagency Transition Task Force.

The purpose of this directory is twofold:

1. To provide school districts who are seeking to contract with an outside agency, with a comprehensive listing of agencies and services that could provide transition services to young adults with disabilities; and
2. To provide families with a resource directory of the potential programs and services available to their son/daughter once they graduate from high school, so they can make more informed choices about post-school options.

The directory is divided into two sections:

Section 1: Community Providers that Serve Youth in Transition

Section 2: Community Providers that Serve Adults with Disabilities

The sections are also divided by Regional Education Service Center (RES-C) regions (see map). This will assist you in locating Community Rehabilitation Providers in your area of the state.

The Community Rehabilitation Providers included in this directory are approved by the Department of Social Services/Bureau of Rehabilitation Services and/or the Department of Mental Retardation.

The list of Community Providers is not all inclusive, as only those agencies completing the survey are included in this directory.

The Connecticut Interagency Transition Task Force does not endorse any specific agency included in this directory. The intent of the directory is to serve as a resource for schools and families.
